

Deloris Lewis
Employee of the Quarter
July-September 2008

Identification Technician Deloris Lewis has processed a number of crime scenes this quarter. She is nominated as the Employee of the Quarter for her structured work ethic, high level of performance, and compassion and excellent service to crime victims. Her crime scene work has led to the identification of several burglary suspects.

In one burglary case, ID Tech Lewis returned to the crime scene three times after new evidence was discovered each time. On the last visit, ID Tech Lewis was able to recover excellent quality fingerprints from the point where the subjects entered the house.

An analysis of these fingerprints identified one subject who was suspected of committing two burglaries. The subject was arrested and confessed to both burglaries. The first subject identified a second subject who is being sought at this time. Neither of these subjects would have been identified and arrested without ID Tech Lewis's attention to detail and excellent work.

For this reason, she is recognized as the Employee of the Quarter for the third quarter of 2008.
